State Proposing Permit To Wed Mother-In-Law

LANSING (AP) — The House debated Friday a bill to increase marriage license fees and to permit you to marry your mother-in-law.

Reported from committee, meanwhile, was a measure involving implied consent to chemical tests on drunken driving suspects — one of last year's hottest issues.

The Senate did not meet.

The marriage bill, sponsored by Rep. Raymond Kehres, D-Monroe, would increase the marriage license fee from $3 to $5 and add a $10 charge is neither party to the application is a Michigan resident.

The extra charge is designed to help the southern tier of counties, which process many marriage applications from other states.

The bill also deletes an 80-year-old prohibition against a person marrying relatives of his widow.

The bill was meant to be taken seriously, but House members had a little fun with it anyway.

Answering tongue-in-cheek references to "the honeymoon tax" and "the high cost of loving," Rep. James Farnsworth, R-Palmer, observed:

"After all, this isn't the sort of thing you ask people to pay for once a year, like license plates."

But just in case, Rep. Edgar Geerlings, R-Muskegon, tried to make the cost of a person's first marriage license $4 and each subsequent one $5.

A more serious amendment, offered by Reps. Francis Beeson, D-Muskegon, and Peter Kok, R-Grand Rapids, would permit a probate judge to waive the prohibition against marriage to first cousins.

That amendment, and the bill, were laid over until next Thursday.

Octuplets!

Mexican Mother Has Eight Babies; All Die

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A young Mexican housewife gave birth to octuplets Friday night but by morning all were dead. Four of them died within five hours of birth and the others died during a vain attempt to save them at the 20th of November Hospital throughout the night and this morning. The last was a boy who died at 8:30 a.m.

The mother's condition was good, a hospital spokesman said.

The record of octuplets had been recorded twice before in this century, in Mexico in 1921 and in China in 1934.

The 21-year-old mother, Maria Teresa Lopez de Sepulveda, was reported in good condition early today but died of complications of the deaths.

"They looked like little mice," a nurse said of the eight babies.

The father, Genero Sepulveda Boone, 24, said, "We expected triplets but nothing like this." His family, in Mexico for several generations, claims descent from Daniel Boone, the American frontiersman.

An associate of Dr. Enrique Estrada Sahagun, the family doctor, said he had looked at X-rays before the birth and "expected some sort of monster because I saw six hearts."

Estrada delivered the babies in his clinic in a poor neighborhood during an hour starting at 7 p.m. The infants, four boys and four girls, were immediately transferred by ambulance to the 20th of November government hospital.

A girl died at 8:35 p.m. and a boy, at 8:55 p.m. Two other boys died just before midnight. Dr. Hector Villalaz, director of the pediatric section of the hospital, said the deaths were caused by dehydration and respiratory problems. He said he did not expect any of the babies to live 48 hours.

Estrada said the babies were from three to four months premature but well developed physically. Their arms and legs were no larger than an adult's little finger.

They weighed from 18½ ounces to 22 ounces—an average of 19½ ounces—and were nearly 12 inches long, he said.

It was the second unusual multiple birth in Mexico this year. A peasant farmer's wife from a small village south of Mexico City gave birth to quintuplets Feb. 5. They are reportedly thriving at another hospital in Mexico City.

Mr. and Mrs. Sepulveda have one other child, a boy of 2. She had not been taking fertility drugs.

The doctor said Mrs. Sepulveda, a native of Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, on the Texas border, "was very brave. She had no anaesthetic whatsoever, just oxygen at intervals."

The infants were put in incubators and given oxygen through tubes directly to their lungs. Doctors massaged the babies' hearts and gently gave them artificial respiration.

A hospital spokesman said that even if one of the babies survived its chances for a normal life would be poor because of probable defects in the central nervous system.

Heads Principals

DETROIT (AP) — Frederick P. Warren was chosen president-elect of the Michigan Association of Elementary School Principals Friday as Joseph White of St. Clair Shores took office as new president. Ford Caesar of Lansing was elected vice president. Maxine Brule of Coloma secretary, and Richard Rink of Grand Rapids treasurer. The elections concluded the annual convention.

Mao Trying To Prevent Hanoi Talking Peace

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Moscow openly expresses suspicion that Mao Tse-tung's group in Red China is doing all in its power to prevent North Vietnam from agreeing to any sort of negotiations and is hoping to promote war between the Soviet Union and the United States.

China is engulfed in political and economic turmoil. Should she recover her balance in the near future, hopes for negotiations between the United States and North Vietnam could be set back indefinitely.

Peking itself indicates fear that North Vietnam may be weakening in its resolve to reject peace talk overtures. From inside North Vietnam there are faint hints of internal political difficulties.

Urge "Fight On"

A month ago Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi said the Vietnam war "is now entering a crucial stage." Quoting Mao, he urged North Vietnam not to be "intimidated" by the enemy. He added that "the heroic Vietnamese people... have long made up their minds not to flinch from heavy sacrifices but are determined to accomplish the great cause of liberation."

Translated, that might mean urgent advice to Hanoi to fight on indefinitely. That is how the Russians seem to translate it. They hammer on the theme that Mao's group wants the war to continue indefinitely in hope that eventually it will cause a major U.S.-Soviet clash.

Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai Podgorny all accuse Peking of helping "the U.S. imperialists" in Vietnam. Peking returns the compliment, accusing Moscow of precisely the same thing.

The Chinese leaders, Podgorny said this week, "do not preclude a worldwide military conflict in pursuit of their ambitions."

Problems Growing

This could reflect a Soviet belief that the danger of a U.S.-Soviet clash over Vietnam indeed does exist. It might be defused by persuading North Vietnam to take a breathing spell, to talk for a while and wait a future and better opportunity of enveloping the South.

The North's propaganda has suggested that its problems are growing with the increased U.S. bombing and shelling.

North Vietnam has been at war many years. Its people probably are tired. It could use a breathing spell. Possibly, Hanoi might even listen with some interest to proposals for talks, if it were not for the pressure of its huge neighbor, Red China.

Senior Highway Worker Retires

LANSING (AP) — Charles Cash, 66, senior State Highway Department employee in years of service, will retire April 1 after 43 years with the department. Cash joined the department in 1923 and held posts as chief of the road construction division and head of the road design division.

Union Expects Sharp Dissent Of Car Makers

By A.F. MARAN

DETROIT (AP) — A chief aide to Walter P. Reuther says the union doesn't have "all the answers to the many, many thorny problems" a guaranteed annual wage would create, but it will strike if necessary to bring such a pay plan into effect.

Irving Bluestone, Reuther's administrative assistant, says the union is putting many varied models of such a plan through computers and expects to come up with several alternatives for switching auto production workers from hourly wages.

Both Reuther and Bluestone expressed confidence the UAW will come up with all the answers however, before negotiations open in early July with the Big Three — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—where the current three-year pacts run out Sept. 5.

Could Set Pattern

The UAW bid for the guaranteed income could set the pattern for labor-management strife which many financial experts predict for major industries in the months ahead.

Reuther himself acknowledged by implication that the auto makers may be sharply opposed to such a plan. "I'm going out on a limb," he said.

But Friday he told some 300 delegates representing 80,000 technical, office and professional workers who are represented by the UAW: "We're not going to sign an agreement this year until we get a guaranteed income for our membership" in the auto industry.

Bluestone told the group the plan would amount to a contract guaranteeing an employee a certain income for a specified term of employment — income the employee would draw even if laid off by his employer during the specified term.

Knotty Problems
"It amounts to guaranteed employment or income," he said.

He said the array of knotty problems such a plan posed included:

— Eligibility: Whether it should be limited to a man with five years seniority, or to all employees, including the newly hired?

— Job security: What benefits will a man receive if laid off before he becomes fully eligible for the pay plan?

— Overtime: Will the companies slow down on hiring and go on overtime rather than take on a new employee whose income they will be required to guarantee for a full year?

— Seniority: "A sticky problem or whether an older worker should have the option to stay on or leave and draw his pay while the man with less seniority continued to work?"

Bluestone said the companies are likely to think the plan very costly, but he said closing the gap "from where we are to where we want to go" would not be a great jump.

U.S. Allies In Vietnam To Get Modern Rifles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department, reacting to criticism of the sale of modern lightweight weapons to neutralist Singapore, says it will provide U.S. allies in Vietnam with nearly 30,000 M16 rifles.

A Pentagon spokesman said Friday night that South Korean army and marine units would get about 16,200 of the rapid-firing rifles while South Vietnamese airborne and marine maneuver elements would receive some 12,600.

The Pentagon's announcement came in the wake of a controversy that began earlier this week with disclosure of the sale of 20,000 similar, civilian model weapons to Singapore by the Colt Arms Manufacturing Co.

A Pentagon spokesman said then that U.S. troops in Vietnam were getting all of M16s they needed. But South Vietnamese and Korean officials said they wanted their troops armed with the rifles.

Democrats Sure Johnson To Run

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Committee members headed home today, convinced President Johnson will seek re-election in 1968 and that his chances have been boosted by party organizational improvements.

Committee members who have been critical of the way party machinery functioned last year said in interviews they feel recent staff appointments indicate an awareness of Democratic organizational needs for next year's presidential campaign.

"I think recent additions to the staff are excellent and am convinced that the National Committee has the complete backing of the President and vice president," said Eugene L. Wyman, California's national committeeman.

Last December, he called the National Committee "basically a shell" and said there was great danger of disintegration in the party throughout the country.

Wyman said a number of National Committee members were apprehensive before meeting Thursday and Friday with National Chairman John M. Bailey and the newly named deputy chairmen, Billie S. Farnum, Charles L. Wetner and William G. Phillips. "I'm satisfied now," he added.

Asked if he thought Johnson would seek another four-year term next year, Wyman replied "there is not a doubt in my mind."

Other members expressed similar views, and the meeting closed by adopting unanimously a resolution commending the administration's handling of the Vietnam war and urging Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey "to make themselves available as our leaders and candidates in 1968."

Cabinet's Limousines Sporting Jap TV Sets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign-made television sets have been added to the bulky array of gadgetry in the limousines of three of President Johnson's Cabinet members.

Spokesmen said Friday that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare, now watch television on their travels to and from work — often reading newspapers at the same time.

All three television sets are manufactured by Sony, a Japanese firm.

Fowler is chairman of an interdepartmental Treasury committee studying ways to solve the U.S. balance of payments problem — caused by more dollars leaving the United States for imports than are spent by other nations for U.S. exports.

White House spokesmen said none of the President's cars have television.

Each Cabinet member can lease his own limousine and get the kind of car and equipment he wants.

Gadgets such as radio telephones, back seat reading lamps, radios and air conditioning generally have been standard equipment for years.

McNamara apparently started the trend toward car television two years ago. Fowler had a set installed in his limousine a year ago and Gardner followed suit a few weeks ago.

A Defense Department spokesman said the television set in McNamara's Lincoln Continental came as part of the regular equipment covered in a lease price of $1,500 a year when the secretary's present limousine was leased two years ago. The spokesman said he was informed the inclusion of the television set did not increase the cost.

The spokesman also said he had acquired of an automobile dealer as to the going rate for lease of such limousines and was told it is $600 a month.

State To Open Bids March 22 On Delta Roads

The State Highway Commission will open bids on six Upper Peninsula highway construction projects, including two in Delta County, in Escanaba March 22.

Total estimated cost for the projects is $1,320,000, about $950,000 of which will go for widening and paving projects in Hancock and Sault Ste. Marie.

The Delta County jobs are:

- 6.1 miles of skidproofing on U.S. 2 from Rapid River east to Ensign, and resurfacing of a bridge deck carrying U.S. 2 over the Soo Line Railroad southeast of Rapid River. Estimated cost, $100,000. Completion date, Oct. 15, 1967.

- 4.5 miles of surfacing and base repair on U.S. 2 and 41 north of Gladstone. Estimated cost, $120,000. Completion date, Nov. 15, 1967.

The other projects are in Chippewa, Gogebic, Houghton and Marquette counties. They are:

Chippewa - 1.4 miles of widening and resurfacing on I-75 business spur from M-129 north of Adams St. Sault Ste. Marie. Estimated cost, $690,000. Completion, June 30, 1968.

Gogebic - Repair of Sunday Lake outlet tunnel on M-28 at the north end of Sunday Lake in Wakefield. Estimated cost, $80,000. Completion, Oct. 31, 1967.

Houghton - 1.2 miles of grading and paving with curb and gutter on M-203 from Anthony Ave. southeast to U.S. 41 in Hancock. Estimated cost, $260,000. Completion, Oct. 31, 1967.

Marquette - Two-thirds mile of grading and paving with curb and gutter on College Drive at Northern Michigan University in Marquette. Estimated cost, $70,000. Completion date, Sept. 30, 1967.

Seney Refuge To Mark Week

SENEY — The National Wildlife Federation has designated March 19-25 as National Wildlife Week.

Seney National Wildlife Refuge staff extends an invitation to the public to visit the refuge and make use of its facilities in the period. The Visitor Center will be open, and slide shows presented to interested groups. "This Is Your Land" will be the theme for the observance. It is hoped that the geese will have returned to Seney Refuge for another nesting season by this date. If so, they may be viewed feeding on the ice near the Center.

Summer Theater

The University of Wisconsin Marinette Center plans an extensive summer theater program for the community involving interested persons in the area according to Herbert Williams, the drama and speech instructor. At 2 p.m. Sunday, a meeting will be held in the Center for area people wishing to participate.

Rowdies

State parks in southern Michigan will be patrolled this summer by conservation officers and park rangers specially trained to control rowdies, vandals, drunks and other trouble makers. State Police will train park officers in techniques of handling masses of people, violence, assault, liquor problems and general hoodlumism.

Easter This Year Is Earliest Since 1951

CHICAGO (AP) — Easter this year, March 26, is the earliest observance of the spring religious feast since 1951, when it fell on March 25.

It will be this early only twice again in this century, in 1978 and 1989. The earliest Easter in the 20th century occurred in 1940, when it fell on March 24. It will be a day earlier in the year 2008 — March 23.

Unlike Christmas, always Dec. 25, this religious holiday can range over a period of 35 days, from March 22 to April 25, because of the complicated method of reckoning it. The last time Easter fell on March 22 was in 1818. The next time will be 2285. The last March 23 Easter was that of 1913. In 1962 Easter fell on April 22. It will not reach its latest possible date, April 25, until 2038.

Date In Controversy
There have been, and are, moves to assign Easter a fixed date. Should this ever be done, it would mean the end of controversies and complications as old as Christendom itself.

The Gospels note that Christ celebrated the Passover on Thursday, although the priesthood of his day observed it on Friday, the day of the Crucifixion.

Jews who embraced Christianity linked the Easter festival with the traditional Passover and believed it should be observed on the 14th of Nisan, first month of the Jewish calendar, regardless of the day of the week. Christians from among the Gentiles wanted the observance on Sunday, day of the Resurrection.

Sunday In West
The controversy raged into the fourth century. The Christian church in the East followed the Jewish tradition, that in the West the Gentile.

In 325 A.D. the Council of Nicea, first of the Christian ecumenical meetings, adopted the Nicene Creed, standardizing beliefs of the young faith. It also decreed that Easter be observed on the first Sunday after the full moon after the vernal equinox, the date when the sun crosses the equator into the Northern Hemisphere.

The date of the equinox was to be fixed each year in Alexandria, Egypt, ancient center of astronomical science. The full moon was tied into the formula to give pilgrims the advantage of moonlight in their travels to shrines.

Confusion Continues
But disagreement persisted. The time of the equinox varied according to longitude. When March 21 was standardized as the date of the equinox, inaccuracies of the Julian calendar and the difficulty of reconciling the lunar calendar with the solar year brought more confusion.

And friction developed in 1582 when Pope Gregory XIII promulgated the calendar we now observe. The East spurned any revision emanating from Rome. The West accepted it readily, except for Britain and Ireland, which followed the Julian calendar until 1752.

Detroit River Pollution Kills Over 500 Ducks

DETROIT (AP) — Pollution in the Detroit River has killed more than 500 ducks—possibly as many as 5,000—Conservation Department biologists said Friday.

"If pollution in such quantities is occurring," said Edward Mikula, a specialist with the department, "it could have a disastrous effect."

He said that with spring migrations beginning more than 100,000 ducks will be pouring onto the river in the next few weeks.

The oil-soaked ducks began washing up on the river bank this week, most of them diving ducks — Canvasbacks, Redheads and Scaup.

Mikula said the department was trying to determine the source of the pollution.

"It's the first major duck kill since 1960," said James Foote, a department biologist. "But we didn't find them in the concentrations we're finding them now."

He said the department estimated more than 12,000 ducks were killed by pollution in 1960.

Oil pollution appears to be the cause of the deaths, Foote said. "There is a possibility this could be botulism," said Loring F. Oeming, executive secretary of the Water Resources Commission. Several hundred ducks were killed in the Detroit River by botulism in September, 1965.

Peninsula Mine Assessments Up By $9.4 Million

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Upper Peninsula iron and copper mines have been assessed at $25.3 million this year, an increase of about $9.4 million over last year, the State Conservation Department reports.

Much of the increase is traced to higher levels of iron mine assessments raised by Upper Peninsula counties — mainly Iron County — the department added.

This year's taxable total for iron mines in Iron County is $9.7 million, up some $8.7 million from a year ago, department officials said.

Other county iron mine assessments set by the State Tax Commission included Marquette, $1.3 million; Gogebic, $270,400, and Dickinson, $25,600.

The over-all 1967 assessment figure for Upper Peninsula iron mines amounts to $11.3 million compared with only $4.7 million last year, while copper mines are assessed at $13.9 million or almost $2.8 million higher than 1966.

Beaver Traps Click April 1

Michigan's 1967 beaver and otter trapping season opens April 1 in the Upper Peninsula with mixed prospects.

On the bright side, Conservation Department field men report beaver populations are generally the same as last year when trappers took 16,805, the third highest harvest on record.

Otter, not nearly as plentiful as beaver, appear to have held close to their 1966 population levels in the two northern zones of Michigan where they may be trapped. Last year, 825 otter were taken, a figure topped only by two other seasons since 1940.

This winter's deep snow in many areas leaves little doubt that trappers will have rougher going than they did last year. Where poor conditions put too much of a dampener on trapping success, the department may extend the season, as it did in the western Upper Peninsula last year.

Still hazy are market prices for beaver and otter furs. In 1966, beaver hides brought an average of $16 apiece while the going rate for each otter pelt figured out to about $25. Sketchy information indicates that these pelts should draw prices at least as high as in 1966, with a good chance they will bring more if a reduced harvest puts them in short supply.

This season's longest open trapping period will be in the western Upper Peninsula and carry a beaver bag limit of eight, same as in 1966. Marquette and Delta counties and western Alger County will come under a four-day shorter season than last year and a reduced beaver limit of six which applies to the remainder of the Upper Peninsula.

The entire upper zone's other limit has been trimmed to two as compared with three in 1966. The cutback allows for the low reproductive potential of these furbearers.

Two sizable areas in Mackinac County will be closed to all trapping because of low beaver and otter populations.

What Kind Of State Income Tax?

By JEAN WORTH
Michigan Legislature tax committee members who must in a few days act on a bill to create a state income tax took a sounding of Upper Peninsula public opinion on such a tax at the State Office Building on Friday afternoon.

The testimony by a dozen persons repeated the familiar pleas for reduction in state spending so not so much new tax revenue would be necessary and for a graduated tax like the federal levy instead of a flat rate (the same rate for everyone) tax, which is the only kind permitted by the new Michigan constitution.

The testimony seemed to acknowledge a rather general belief that an income tax is needed in Michigan, that it is inevitable, and that it may come at the current session of the Legislature.

There is still a good deal of sparring about what kind of an income tax in the terms of tax rate and exemptions and an apparent belief by legislators that some sort of property tax reduction will be necessary to get public support for even a modest flat rate (2.5 - 3 per cent) income tax.

State Problems
The public hearing arranged by Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistiquie) a member of the House Appropriations Committee to give Upper Peninsula a chance to speak out on the income tax, was also an opportunity for the state's tax committee members to speak out on the financial jam-jams that the state is slipping into because:
1. The increased population means more state school aid and other services.

SOUNDING UPPER PENINSULA reaction to proposal of a state income tax to meet Lansing's financial crisis in Escanaba on Friday were members of the taxations committees of the Michigan Legislature's House and Senate. From left at a luncheon at the House of Ludington preceding the State Office Building hearing are: Rep. Charles

2. The last legislatures, riding a prosperity wave in the state, increased state services — Medicaid, senior citizens home-stead tax exemptions, fatter stay pay and fringes, etc.

Demands On State
3. People who think that the Johnson Administration's welfare spending is just ducky have created what Varnum called "this monster" of welfare spending. Michigan pays a big hunk of the federal taxes and it will pay it whether the state implements the services or not, so, practically, it must avoid cheating its citizens. They're going to be taxed for the program, so they should get its benefits.

But that means a 50-50 matching program and it makes heavy new demands upon state funds. One witness in an aside said: "Yeah God, we pay the federal part and then we pay the state part and it's supposed to be free!"

The legislators at the hearing were: Rep. James N. Folks, (R-Horton), chairman of the House Tax Committee, who presided; Rep. George Montgomery (D-Detroit) vice chairman; Rep. Martin D. Butth, (R-Comstock Park), House Tax Committee; Senator Gordon Rockwell (R-Mt. Morris), Senate Tax Committee, and Varnum.

Deficit Shaping
Varnum said that spending and taxing at the present level would mean a deficit of $186 millions at the end of June, 1968. Reduced spending would mean drastic "disastrous" cuts in education, cuts in mental health services, senior citizens tax exemptions. "I feel that tax reform (an income tax) is needed but that the governor's program does not go far enough in several areas."

The governor has proposed a 2.5 per cent personal income tax and Varnum believes 3 per cent is the minimum realistic rate to meet the bills. "Most of my mail indicates that people realize that something must be done and I think the people of the district are willing to face the responsibility of paying for things that they receive," said Varnum.

Rep. Butth said the state increased nuisance taxes in 1962 and had increased no taxes since; that an increase in the economy that ranged up to 10 and 12 per cent a year had declined to 4 or 5 per cent and that the Legislature, under the influence of pressures and boom, had increased state services, and now finds it hard to adjust to less income and more demands.

Tax Inevitable
Escanaba banker Forrest Henslee said he saw no alternative solution to Michigan's problems but an income tax, but that he preferred the proposal of Banker Howard Stoddard to that of Gov. Romney. Stoddard would exempt the first $1,000 of income to relieve the burden on low income persons.

"I'm concerned over the increasing state budget, which has increased 77 per cent from 1965 to 1968. It's not all for education; few departments are without substantial increases. No one knows about Medicaid. The Michigan Higher Education Assistance awards interest free loans to children of families with $15,000 or less of income."

Henslee took sharp issue with Rep. Montgomery on medical welfare spending, saying that he had not, in a life of extensive exposure to medical practice, ever seen anyone of any kind denied medical service.

Medicaid Unlimited
"I don't know how it is politically possible," said Montgomery, "to reverse the trend of government taking larger parts of the gross national products in the next few years."

"No one," said Varnum, "knows what Medicaid will cost but the estimate now is $200 million to $300 million a year. I think the federal government realizes now what a monster it has created. (In promising full medical services to the indigent and low income groups.)"

Mrs. Rene Labre, a volunteer worker in welfare services said that people could never be really helped in welfare services unless they accepted some responsibility.

Teachers Petition
Peter Ross, director of the Delta County Tax Department, asked if a reduction in the sales tax might not be a better easement of tax burden on low incomes than a 10 per cent personal property tax reduction? Folks said it was a lively issue in the committee, with strong expression of opinion there that not enough property tax relief was offered.

Supervisor Edward Bergman of Bark River Township, said "I'd like to see a graduated income tax."

Richard Adams, Lansing of the Michigan Education Association, said that the teachers

Varnum (R-Manistiquie) who asked the committees to visit the U. P.; Senator Gordon Rockwell (R-Mt. Morris), Rep. George Montgomery (D-Detroit), Rep. Martin D. Butth (R-Comstock Park), and Rep. James N. Folks, Horton, chairman of the House Labor Committee. (Daily Press Photo) of the state would rather see a graduated income tax than a flat rate tax (but that they recognized a financial crisis in the state. Better, he said, to solve it for now with a flat rate tax than to start a long time effort to change the constitution to authorize a graduated rate tax.

Farmers' View
Supt. Luther Barrett of the Escanaba Area School District said that the MEA demands for increased teacher salaries were making state fiscal reform necessary, but that "tax increases are going to have to be more than anything we've had proposed yet to be realistic."

Gus McFadden, speaking for the Delta County Farm Bureau, 125 farmer members, said they would go along with a tax on net income, with adjustment of the property tax and with "reasonable exemptions. He described the Delta plight of farmland ownership under present taxes.

James Doran, truckline employee, said "I can't see a flat rate income tax as a reform. He urged a 6 to 8 per cent graduated tax on incomes as "more attractive" than a 3 per cent flat rate "because more people are in the lower income brackets."

Crash In Trees Hospitalizes 2

MANISTIQUE — Dennis Robere, 20, of Manistique escaped injury when a car he was driving went off County Road 440 and struck trees at 10:55 p.m. Friday near Indian Lake.

State Police investigation in the accident, in which two passengers were hospitalized, is continuing. They are Mary Lou Anderson, 18, and Kristin Downing, 18. The extent of their injuries had not been determined this morning.

A third passenger, Randy Busch, 19, was injured and received outpatient treatment at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital.

Officers said the 1966 car driven by Robere was extensively damaged.

Heavy Snowfall Deposits Water

Winter - weary Michigan residents can count on some good from this season's heavy snowfall if all that white stuff doesn't melt too fast, the Conservation Department reports.

Test wells of the U. S. Geological Survey are reflecting winter snowmelt in improved ground water levels. February readings were above average throughout Michigan.

A stretch of warm days and cold nights would permit even greater recharge of ground water supplies, but continuous thawing would result in fast surface runoff and flooding.

Seal Of Quality

LANSING (AP) — The State Agriculture Commission has approved a seal of quality program for high - standard Michigan sweet cherries. The Legislature still must approve use of the seal, which would go on cherries which pass a rigid inspection.

U. Of M. Is Told Recruit Negroes

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The federal government has told the University of Michigan it is in danger of losing federal funds for research contracts if it fails to take immediate action to recruit more Negro students and faculty.

The action resulted from a Thursday meeting between university officials and Walter Greene, acting director of the Defense Department's Contract Compliance Office in Detroit. Greene submitted a 52-page report to Washington last October after studying U-M's recruitment and hiring policies for Negroes.

"It was a friendly, cooperative meeting," a school spokesman said. "We were very glad to receive the recommendations and we will do everything we can to follow the suggestions they establish."

Greene said it would check on the University's progress in about a year.

Michigan's 34,000 student enrollment includes 450 Negroes and Greene said Negroes accounted for 10 per cent of the school's employees, most of these in nonprofessional jobs.

Greene told the university to "contact and encourage" more Negro students to join the university and "specific efforts should be made to recruit non-white employees for the positions of resident director and resident advisor under the office of university housing."

The university faculty totals about 2,500, of which only 25 are Negroes.

Greene was critical of the engineering department because it has no Negro instructors.

Norman R. Scott, associate dean of the college of engineering, said the school was "deeply concerned" about not having any Negro instructors. He said few Negroes enter engineering and competition is keen for those qualified as teachers.

Greene called on each of the university's departments to develop a written plan on how it would improve its hiring policies and said an office of civil rights should be set up to supervise the entire move toward equal opportunity.

School Booklet High In Demand

Knowledge of the Escanaba community is being circulated throughout the United States via the Centennial booklet published by the Escanaba Area public schools last year in connection with the 100th anniversary of the founding of the school system.

Supt. Luther M. Barrett said a copy of the booklet was sent to the National School Public Relations Association for its collection of materials. The association mentioned the booklet in one of its publications and as a result requests for copies have come to Escanaba from all over the nation.

Copies have been mailed to communities in 18 states, Barrett said.

Turkey Shoot

MADISON, Wis. — Applications for permits to participate in Wisconsin's second spring turkey hunt are now available at Conservation Department field stations and offices of county clerks.

The special season, only the second wild turkey hunt in modern Wisconsin history, runs from April 22 through May 11 in the area bounded by State Highways 21, 80 and 173.

Cookie Time Again

Brownies and Girl Scouts at their bright-eyed best are strictly topper in our youngsters world. The Girl Scout next door, a pig-tailed moppet in Brownie brown, is bug-eyed with wonder when she's off on an upside-down discovery hike to see what lives under things. And her older sister in Girl Scout green is the sharpest teenager in town, dashing from school to take part in a youth forum on "New Careers in a New World."

Whether they're 7 or 17, and whether their interest is art or zoology (besides boys, of course) a Girl Scout lives in a wonderful world of adventure and discovery and she has guidance outside of her family in the exciting process of growing up. She is most fortunate in being subjected in this program to the moral influences which are getting so much stress today as a need of all Americans and especially our young.

The start of the annual Girl Scout cookie sale, with the girls going from door-to-door to sell the cookies that finance their camping activities and other programs, is a reminder that this is Girl Scout Week, March 12-18. It was 55 years ago that Juliette Gordon Low founded the Girl Scouts and the girls are dropping their pennies—one for each year of their age—into the Low Fund again to advance Girl Scouting abroad.

There are more than three million girls, 7 to 17 years of age, in the Girl Scouts this year as the organization marks its 55th year and the occasion is one for rejoicing. But in Delta County the occasion is one for concern. Last year there were more than 600 girls in Scouting here, and this year there are fewer than 400.

There's no mystery about the reason. The girls are more anxious than ever to belong, but their parents aren't so keen about it. Oh, they want the girls to have benefits of Scouting, all right, but they, the adults, don't want to give up the time necessary to give the program the adult leadership that is its backbone.

The newspapers are hearing this plaint more and more. It plagues Boy Scouting, too. Parents can be induced to give a check to the youth organizations that help their sons and daughters, but they won't give their own leadership to the children. They're too busy, they say.

It's a fake, of course. The people who are in it are as busy as they are and maybe moreso, but they believe that they have an obligation to pay back some of the help they got as children from adults.

This is a sharp and alarming comment on our culture, this increasing unwillingness of parents to back up with their own participation the programs which are designed to give their own children a wholesome exposure to American life and ideals outside of their own families in the very formative years from 7 to 17.

We've scolded about this before and we're not going to go on about it again because it achieves nothing; the situation is getting worse. We recommend to the Girl Scouts that they make a study of the local situation to see what might be done about it. If it's hopeless—the program has already been pared by half and it wasn't reaching all the girls who wanted to join at its peak—maybe there should be some surgery. As it is this fine program is shrinking into little groups when it should be involving the whole community of its age bracket.

Highway Accent

America is literally a nation that runs on wheels, and wheels must have roads.

In the past 10 years, we have spent more than $114 billion on our roads and streets. This year, despite a federal cutback in interstate highway funds, spending on roads—federal, state and local—will rise to a level of $15 billion.

During the next 10 years, highway spending is expected to total more than $150 billion. Thus total expenditures will probably reach or exceed $250 billion, or one-quarter of $1 trillion, during these two decades.

The figures are cited by Senator Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., chairman of the Committee on Public Works and Subcommittee on Public Roads, by way of putting the federal reduction of $700 million in fiscal 1967 in perspective.

The stretchout in spending will push the completion date of the 41,000-mile interstate system back about two years, from 1972 to 1974, and work some hardship on the construction industry. But it does not, says Randolph, writing in American Highway Builder, "signal a withdrawal of the federal government from the highway program." There may, in fact, be a beneficial side effect.

There are about 3,664,000 miles of roads of all types in the United States. But less than 20 per cent, or only 680,514 miles, are paved with heavy-duty surfaces.

One result of the federal cutback, thinks Randolph, will be the diversion of some state matching funds to the pavement and repair of many sections of these primary and secondary systems which have had to be deferred because of the more pressing urgency of the interstate system.

Hard-Working Male

The average man spends eight hours a day on his job, plus another three-quarters of an hour on coffee breaks. He uses from 40 minutes to an hour and a half getting to and from work. He also allows 15 minutes a day to fixing things around the house and another 10 minutes to helping his wife with the housework. He sleeps 7.6 hours a night.

That, at any rate, is the picture of Mr. Average gleaned from a national study of 2,122 persons.

Mrs. Average, on the other hand, spends 5 1/2 hours doing housework. Of that time, 30 per cent is devoted to cooking and dishwashing, 40 per cent to cleaning, 25 per cent to laundry and 5 per cent to miscellaneous chores.

It was not indicated whether the latter category included time spent trying to roust Mr. Average off the couch to get his 10 minutes out of him.

Mogul's Hall

Baseball has its Hall of Fame. So does football. Why not one honoring the outstanding players in the equally rough-and-tumble game of business and high finance?

The University of Michigan plans to create just that—a hall of fame recording the names and accomplishments of famous executives. Due to be opened in 1969 at the University's School of Business Administration, the hall will contain plaques, photographs, documents and film biographies of men like Carnegie, Ford, Vanderbilt and others who will be selected by a panel of 200 educators, public officials, businessmen and business writers.

Bigger than Life

Who's Lady, Barry?

By WASHINGTON STAFF
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A few days before his "Sanity Gap" speech at the Young Republicans convention here, Barry Goldwater acted as MC at a GOP dinner in Arizona.

"I never realized how many problems an MC has," Goldwater reported. "Not only are there a lot of things to keep track of, but it seems that the audiences have become a lot more demanding."

"It used to be that any Republican speaker who was hard up for applause could just mention Douglas MacArthur and reach for the glass of water. But not any more."

Goldwater apparently passed the test at the Arizona dinner. The audience, observers report, was delighted with his performance.

All but one in the audience that is. Though he was seated at the head table, Barry somehow forgot to introduce his wife, Peggy.

Recalling that Everett Dirksen's "Gallant Men" recording was selling like hotcakes, Goldwater cracked:

"I understand they want Vice President Hubert Humphrey to cut a record now. But it's hard to see how they can get 40 minutes out of 'Yes, Mr. President.'"

Two other guest speakers at the YR convention, California Rep. Bob Wilson and Texas Sen. John Tower, were chatting at a pre-luncheon reception.

"There seem to be a lot of Texans migrating to California these days," noted Wilson. "At least there are a lot in my district."

"I don't mind it at all," shot back Tower. "It raises the education level of both states."

Even though the next gubernatorial election in Alabama is nearly four years away, the name of former Gov. James ("Kissin' Jim") Folsom—who has entered every gubernatorial primary contest in that state in recent years—is again cropping up.

Perhaps it isn't his fault. Several observers have described Florida's controversial governor, Claude Kirk, as "the South's new Kissin' Jim Folsom." When this comparison was made at a recent party, it reminded an Alabama of his favorite Folsom anecdote.

Folsom was never noted for his modesty, and when his press secretary was once introduced in his absence as "the No. 1 public relations man in the state," it was too much for him.

"No. 1, hell!" he bellowed. "He might be No. 2. If he were the No. 1 PR man, he'd be governor!"

Minor political gleanings: State Rep. Lloyd House, the first Indian to serve in the Arizona state legislature, has assembled a smog abatement proposal. "We would not," he pointed out, "be permitted to send up smoke signals..."

And in Texas, it's just about impossible to escape the presidential initials. State Rep. Jake Johnson has introduced a bill to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink. He calls it: "The LBJ Bill—Liquor by the Jigger."

People, Events Of Yesteryears

From the Files of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 Years Ago

This week marked the ninth anniversary of the AAA farm program. The AAA deserved special recognition on its anniversary because of the widespread work it had done agriculturally and economically.

City councilmen disposed of the business on their agenda in record time at their last meeting. During the 45 minutes of the meeting, two orders of business were taken care of, one of which dealt with the City Band and the other pertained to the civilian defense program.

50 Years Ago

John Johnson, of the Escanaba area, was the owner of a new 1917 model Hupmobile, worth $1,185. Johnson traded six hundred bushels of potatoes with the A. & J. Company of Escanaba for the automobile.

Jacob Bink set a new record for the Delft Club alleys for the present bowling season when he topped the pins for a score of 278. He broke the former record of Hugué Blake, which was 277.

Half-Day Sessions

BEDFORD TOWNSHIP (AP) — Students in grades 3, 4, 5 and 6 will go on half-day sessions next year in Monroe County's Bedford Township School District. The reduction — affecting about 2,000 of the district's 6,000 pupils — is due to a shortage of classrooms, said school officials.

Questions And Answers

Q — What American artist gained greater fame as an inventor?
A—Samuel Morse, inventor of the telegraph.

Q—What is the origin of the space term "Gemini"?
A—It stems from Greek mythology. Gemini, a name meaning "the twins," was applied to Castor and Pollux and to the constellation formed by them when transported to the heavens to dwell among the stars.

Q—What fish is so small that its head is sometimes preserved, fitted on a wood base, and used as a chessman?
A—The sea horse.

Q—Why is the ordinary dinner jacket called a "tuxedo"?
A—The name is said to have originated with a country club at Tuxedo Park, N. Y., where this type of dinner jacket was first worn.

Q—What is meant by the expression, "His speech was greeted with little sal"?
A—The phrase is used to mean a certain wit or vigor of style in writing, in reference to the superior quality anciently attributed to Athenian works. The Roman style was heavier, less spirited.

Q—What denomination is New York's "Little Church Around the Corner"?
A—Episcopalian.

Q—What South American country is named after a tree?
A—Brazil takes its name from brazilwood, a tree discovered in South America in 1500.

You are pretty sure that your partner can make six hearts. In fact you expect that he will make seven if a spade is opened. Your problem is to figure out how you can persuade the opponents to let him play the heart slam.

If you have a well-established reputation as a deceptive bidder you might jump right to six hearts. East will say to himself, "Good old North has jumped right to six hearts. If he thought his partner could make that contract, he would never make such an obvious bid. Therefore North is

COUNTRY MUSIC

I am writing to you because I don't know who else to write to for this information. I'm hoping you'll have the answer. How do you go about having Grand Ole Opry stars come to Escanaba?

Buck Owens just was in Green Bay, Wis. Last year at our State Fair time Eddy Arnold was at Green Bay's State Fair. Every now and then Grand Ole Opry Stars are in Green Bay—if they can get there, why can't Escanaba? I realize that Escanaba is a much smaller town than Green Bay—would it be that they don't care to come to Escanaba?

A few years ago Roy Drusky, Skeeter Davis and Porter Wagner were here and there wasn't a good turnout, but it wasn't well advertised. I've talked to many people after they had been here and they didn't even know they had been in town.

As the WLST announcer said in the article in Friday's Daily Press, "country and western music is the most popular music in America." I agree with him on that, but him saying that it's the only music that he means to the songs. It's hard time to believe that there is meaning to the songs. It's hard to believe that he wouldn't like some of it, especially songs by Jim Reeves, Eddy Arnold and Connie Smith.

Dear Ann Landers: I dated a widower for over a year and grew very fond of him. There was every indication that the feeling was mutual.

Three months ago he was transferred to a city 250 miles from here. He drove back every weekend and on alternate weekends I took the bus to see him. We spoke intermittently on the telephone.

Yesterday he telephoned to say he is getting married. At first I thought he was kidding but it soon became clear that he was serious. He swears that he is not in love with the woman but he says he can tolerate her. She has a lovely home and is well fixed. I asked how he could marry a woman he didn't love and he replied, "I don't know. I don't work out well on our separate ways and I won't be hurt."

I am trying hard to keep from falling to pieces over the shock. What do you make of this? — STUNNED

Dear Stunned: Men who get married suddenly always have a grand assortment of "excuses" for friends, former sweethearts, and even themselves.

The man is marrying the woman because he thinks he sees some social and financial advantages. He probably does not love her, but then he didn't love YOU either, so cheer up. You came off better than she did.

Dear Ann Landers: My "problem" is unimportant compared with the problems most people write to you about but it has caused so much trouble in our family you wouldn't believe it. Six people are not speaking to each other on account of this.

When a person returns to a town where he used to live, should he telephone his relatives and say "hello" or should he assume that his relatives will know he is in town and call him if they want to see him? — FUR FLYING

Dear Fur: The person who goes to another city to visit should write in advance to friends and relatives he wishes to see or he should telephone them when he arrives. The visitor who expects people to learn he is in town and call him is rather arrogant.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Liberties Union Approves Crime News Censoring

DETROIT (AP)—A top official of the American Civil Liberties Union in Michigan has urged Gov. George Romney to reinstate proposed State Police pretrial news restrictions.

Roland O'Hare, chairman of the ACLU in Michigan, praised the rules announced Thursday by Col. Frederick Davis, State Police director.

Romney, when he heard of the announcement, suspended the regulations until he, Davis and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley could consider them jointly.

O'Hare said the action of Davis "deserves the commendation of all who have been worried about maintaining the balance between the right of fair trial and freedom of the press."

He said the regulations would protect the right of the accused to a fair trial free from prejudicial publicity and the interest of the people as a whole in apprehending and convicting wrong-doers.

The ACLU might not agree to the form of each and every regulation, he said, but added: "The thrust of Col. Davis' concerns is consistent with both the Supreme Court decisions and the comparable rules for federal law enforcement agencies."

O'Hare's statement came as no surprise. Davis, in announcing the regulations, had pointed out that the U.S. attorney general had recommended the regulations.

Davis also said members of the Michigan Bar and courts had reviewed them. Members of news media were not consulted, he said.

The regulations would limit State Police officers to revealing only what Davis termed essential details about crimes—name and address of the victim, his loss, means of death in murders, names of persons arrested, place and method of arrest, and whether any stolen property was recovered.

Powell Ouster Is Final: Ford

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said Friday that the House action in denying a seat to Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., "is final. There is no appeal."

The Michigan Republican made the comment at a news conference after addressing Associated Industries of Cleveland.

Powell filed suit in Washington this week seeking a reversal of the House ruling.

Ford hinted that he may not honor a federal court subpoena to testify in the suit brought by Powell. He said the subpoena "was accepted for service only. It does not mean we are subject to the jurisdiction of the court."

He said U.S. courts "have no right to tell the legislative branch whether it can or cannot seat a member."

Ford told reporters "the overwhelming sentiment of the House of Representatives is that we will not tolerate the courts of this country" determining the issue.

In his speech, Ford said President Johnson's proposed restoration of the 7 per cent investment tax credit should be made retroactive to the time it took effect last September.

"As an individual, I say if we are going to repeal the legislation...," the Michigan Republican declared. "Congress should approve a provision to make the repeal retroactive to September, 1966."

"This would avoid litigation and make the legislation of last year null and void," Ford said in a speech at the 47th annual meeting of the industries group.

Ship Sinking Guilt Fixed

Blame Cedarville's Chief

WASHINGTON — The Coast Guard commandant has approved an investigation board's report blaming the captain of an American ship for a collision with a Norwegian vessel in the Straits of Mackinac.

The ships, both freighters, were the American Cedarville and the Norwegian Topdalsfjord.

The two vessels collided in heavy fog in the Straits of Mackinac, May 7, 1965.

The Cedarville sank, but the Topdalsfjord was able to make port with a damaged bow.

The board found that the captain of the Cedarville, Martin E. Joppich, checked the extent of the damage to his ship and then tried to beach the vessel.

But the ship capsized two miles from shore and sank.

The board said the captain "judged poorly the peril to his crew and vessel and the time remaining for him to beach his ship."

The board said the captain operated the ship "at full speed almost up to the jaws of collision."

The marine board's report also said miscommunication by the Cedarville's officers after the collision lessened the chances of beaching the ship.

"It is tragic," the report said, "that the Cedarville steamed enough miles following her fatal wound to have made the beach at Mackinaw City."

Joppich, who was 54 at the time, "judged poorly the peril to his crew and vessel and the time remaining to beach his ship," the report said, adding that "the beaching course furnished by the third mate was incorrect and the master should have immediately realized this."

The report also cited "false optimism" aboard the Cedarville for failure to initiate "a plan for minimizing personnel losses in the engine room or abandoning ship."

In reaching its conclusions, the board noted that it had respected Joppich's testimony in favor of that of the helmsman on duty at the time. Joppich pleaded guilty Aug. 24, 1966, to Coast Guard charges of excessive speed and his license was suspended for a year.

Survivors and relatives of the crew members who died have filed suits totaling more than $10 million against U.S. Steel Corp., owner of the Cedarville.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Twenty-five passengers on a Greyhound bus ran through burning gasoline to safety Friday night as a 15-foot wall of flame raced toward them.

Police said nobody was injured. Witnesses gave this account:

A tanker truck slowed in heavy traffic on the Santa Ana Freeway and was struck by another truck, wrecking the tanker and spilling 1,825 gallons of gasoline.

An unidentified motorist stopped and set out flares to warn oncoming vehicles. A flare ignited the gasoline. There was an explosion and flames rose as high as 20 feet along 200 yards of the freeway.

The driver of the Los Angeles-bound bus, Wilmer Turner, braked to a stop to avoid hitting the two crashed trucks.

"I saw gas spurting out of the tanker. I got out of the bus and walked to the rear and saw flames. I ran to the front and yelled, 'Hey, all you cats, get off.' I never saw a bus clear so quick," Turner said.

Most of the passengers were Marines on liberty from Camp Pendleton 60 miles to the south. Before firemen extinguished the blaze, the bus had been burned out, the tanker had been damaged, the other truck's trailer destroyed.

Shooting preserve operators, farmers, and game breeders with flocks of captive-raised mallard ducks are reminded of a new federal regulation which requires them to toe-clip these birds by the end of April. The small rear toe on the right foot of each mallard raised in captivity must be removed so these birds can be distinguished from wild mallards if their owners want to sell, transport, or shoot them during the regular waterfowl hunting season.

Winkelman Up

NEW YORK (AP)—Winkelman Stores Inc. reports net income for the 12 months ended Jan. 26 totaled $689,361, or 96 cents a share, compared with $689,467, or 91 cents a share, in 1965. Sales for the year totaled $35,812,071 compared to 1965 sales of $32,949,897.

Draft Change Months Away

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you're wondering when the changes proposed by President Johnson are going to be made in the draft system, you're in distinguished company. Many of the officials running the operation don't know.

But informed sources do hazard a prediction on one change in the Selective Service System: a lot of people have been wondering about.

It now appears that Johnson's announced plan to have 19-year-olds called first—reversing the callup order—probably will not be put into effect for at least several months.

Congress is about to consider proposed changes in the draft. And, sources said, the youngest-first plan is not expected to take effect before Congress acts.

Basic sections of the current draft law expire June 30. The President could issue an executive order, effective immediately, that would make the change-over.

But sources said this would be extremely difficult. One troublesome question is what would be done about young men past the 18- to 20-year age group but liable for the draft up to age 26—would they escape the draft?

And there is the question of what method would be used to select the youngest eligibles to be called first.

The biggest uncertainty of all is Congress.

Tax Credit Move Spurs Market To 2nd Heaviest Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced sharply and then fell back Friday in the second heaviest trading in New York Stock Exchange history.

The early surge came after President Johnson's request for restoration of the 7 per cent business investment tax credit.

After prices had spurted, profit takers stepped in and the gains were sliced.

Volume of 14.91 million shares was second only to the 16.41 million shares traded on Oct. 29, 1929. A first-hour record of 5.14 million shares was set. The previous mark for the period was 4.27 million shares last Jan. 12.

At one point the New York Stock Exchange ticker tape fell 16 minutes behind in reporting floor transactions.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks closed up 4.35 points at $48.50 after having been ahead 13.70 points during the morning.

The Associated Press 60-stock average advanced 2.7 points to 319.3. The New York Stock Exchange common stock index showed a gain of 19 cents in the average price of a share.

Soviet Court Frees Wortham On $5500 Fine

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet appeal court today freed American Buel Ray Wortham $5,555.55 on two criminal charges and released him from a three year labor camp sentence.

He had been convicted of engaging in illegal currency operations and stealing a statue from a hotel room.

The Supreme Court of the Russian Federation confirmed its earlier sentence that the 25-year-old North Little Rock, Ark., youth was guilty of theft and black market currency deals in Leningrad.

But it accepted his plea not to send him back to confinement, where he spent more than three months, before being released on bail.

The court rejected a request to overrule part of the sentence confiscating his car and other valuables.

Secret Talks A Must For Peace Effort: Salinger

DETROIT (AP)—Former Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said Friday only secret negotiations would be able to bring any sort of peace talks aimed at ending the Vietnam War.

Salinger, who served both Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, made his remarks before the Adcraft Club of Detroit.

He said he disagreed with Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., that the bombing of North Vietnam should be stopped as a prelude to negotiations.

"The only communications which are going to succeed in the current effort will be behind-the-scenes talks involving many nations which will arrive at some predetermined de-escalation of the war in Vietnam before any overt actions by the various nations involved can be successful," he said. "It is my belief that several genuine peace feelers have been destroyed by premature disclosure that there were discussions going on."

In a press conference, Salinger told newsmen New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would be the most effective candidate Republicans could run for the presidency in 1968.

Asked about the prospects of Michigan Gov. George Romney, Salinger said:

"I think Mr. Romney has clearly indicated he is not presidential material. I'm not sure that his problem is a communications gap or a failure to understand the issues. But I think it is probably a failure to understand the issues."

Salinger, a vice president for Continental Airlines Inc., returned to the United States 10 days ago from a trip to Vietnam.

Fire Kills Two Waves, Admiral

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP)—Rear Adm. Howard A. Yeager, 61, commandant of the 9th Naval District, and two Waves were killed early today in a fire at his home at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

Firemen rescued the admiral's wife, Mary Jane, an invalid, but she was reported in critical condition at the base hospital with burns on her back, arms and legs.

Yeager was to have retired April 1 as commandant of the 9th Naval District, the nation's largest, and become assistant to the president of Zenith Radio Corp., Joseph S. Wright.

The two Waves killed in the fire lived in the house to care for Mrs. Yeager. They were identified as Laura Jean Martin, 21, the daughter of William Martin of Port Charlotte, Fla., and Lora Mae Garrett, 25, the daughter of Joseph Garrett of Los Alamos, N.M.

Two steward's mates who were in the house when the fire broke out were not injured.

Damage to the 50-year-old brick and wood Georgian-style house was estimated at $20,000.

The cause of the fire was not known.

'Radio Watch' Enlisted To Aid Detroit's Police

DETROIT (AP)—A total of 1,350 two-way radio equipped cars have been enlisted to serve as additional eyes for Detroit's police department.

Dubbed the "community Radio Watch" program, the plan embraces the radio equipped cars of four of the city's largest utilities.

Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said drivers of all the cars will be taught how to report to police when they see a crime, accident, fire or other emergency during their daily rounds.

They will report to their dispatchers, who then will relay the word to police headquarters.

"We hope eventually to enlist all 6,000 two-way radio equipped cars operated in Detroit by trucking, taxi and other private firms," Girardin said.

Cars enlisted in the program will bear "community Radio Watch" stickers, and membership cards will be issued to drivers.

Railmen Urged Settle For 5%

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some 137,000 railworkers—whose threatened strike would affect railroads with 95 per cent of the nation's rail mileage—have been urged to settle for a 5 per cent pay boost.

The recommendation came Friday from an emergency board directed by President Johnson to try to avert a strike by members of six AFL-CIO shopcraft unions.

The unions, pressing for a 6 per cent across-the-board wage hike, are threatening to strike April 12 unless their demands are met.

The board also urged parties to the dispute to sign a two-year contract retroactive to last Jan. 1. The board-backed contract would allow reopening of negotiations next Jan. 1 only on the question of a possible general wage increase.

The board said its proposal for a 5 per cent across-the-board boost would average 15 cents an hour.

Board Chairman David Ginsburg, a Washington attorney, said wage differences between skilled and unskilled railworkers also was at issue in the threatened strike. He said industry practice of granting flat wage hikes to all employees had sharply narrowed differences in pay between the two classes of workers.

The board called this unfair and urged the unions and railroads to conduct studies aimed at determining proper wage differentials.

The presidential panel asked the parties to accept binding arbitration of their dispute if they can't accept its recommendations.

Deferment Tests

DETROIT (AP)—Draft deferment tests will be administered at 15 Michigan colleges and universities today, March 31 and April 8, the State Selective Service said Friday. The tests are voluntary but students taking them must have registered for them before Feb. 10 and must not have taken the test before.

Women's Activities

By HELOISE CRUSE
Dear Heloise:
In our location we have very hard water, and I always use a water softener (a granulated kind) in my wash water.
We also use the public washateria. So when I am gathering up my wash, I get out my husband's shirts, take them to the kitchen or bathroom, and sprinkle water and some granulated water softener along the collars.
I pick up one corner of the collar and rub across the soil "line" with it. I do this from both ends of the collar.
The granules serve as an abrasive and when they dissolve, they soften the body oil that is in the collar.
I leave this on the collar and by the time I wash it, the oil has softened and dissolved enough to completely wash out of the collar.
No more old dirty collars in my wash.
I wouldn't be caught without my water softener.
Betty Outman

Dear Betty:
You not only hit the nail on the head, but you hit the line around our necks!
We tested your hint in a hard water area and it was fantastic.
While we were in that area, we also tested washing windows. We found out some of the streaks left on windows were caused by using the hard water.
And we thank you for helping us.

Here's a great idea my father hit on when our shower drain wouldn't work.
After he took off the perforated plate, he stuck an old door spring down the pipe and twisted it. Out came all the hair in the drain.
Now the drain flows freely.
Robin Jackson

Dear Heloise:
Recently one of your readers suggested that the best way to avoid broken fingernails from pulling pins out of pin-on price tags, was to use a wooden clothespin to remove the pins. There is a much simpler and faster way to extract the bent pin without using any tool.
Clasp the bottom of the price ticket with the thumb and forefinger of both hands. Tear the ticket up through the middle, going up with the right hand and down with the left.
The pin will come out with the right half of the ticket.
As the leading manufacturer of pin-on tickets, we know from long experience how simple this removal is, if done correctly.
Howard L. Miller

Dear Heloise:
Save time and money when changing hemlines by reusing the thread chainstitched into garments.
Remove thread in one continuous piece by cutting through the chainstitch, then pulling the thread which loops over top of chainstitch. The entire hemline will be released when you pull this one thread.
You can use this matching thread to put in a new hemline, mend seams, sew on buttons without hunting for the right color.

Dear Heloise:
I find that the best way to keep a bread package shut is with a clothespin.
It holds the end snug and is quicker than twisting the little wire around the end.

Gary Lewis, Sara Suzara Married Today

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When rock 'n' roll singer Gary Lewis marries Sara Jane (Jinky) Suzara today he'll be playing the ceremony by ear.
There has been no time for a rehearsal.
Lewis, 21, who is stationed with the Army at Fort Ord, Calif., arrived home Friday night and must return to the base Monday morning.
The couple will postpone their honeymoon until Gary gets leave in about three weeks. They met in the Philippines.
About 200 persons were expected to attend the Roman Catholic ceremony at St. Paul the Apostle church in Westwood. A reception was scheduled at the home of Gary's parents. He is the son of comedian Jerry Lewis.
Miss Suzara's parents, Capt. and Mrs. Andres Suzara of the Philippines, will be at the wedding.
The hasty preparations were the culmination of a whirlwind courtship that spanned two continents and kept telephone wires humming.

Scout Leaders Give A Lot Of Themselves

Long before the current youthquake began, nearly three-quarters of a million American adults committed themselves to the young way of life. They're women — and men — who have joined the Girl Scouts.
For some 150,000 troop leaders are in Scouting and thousands of other adults, from artists to zoologists, serve as "program consultants" — visiting troops or bringing girls in to their offices, laboratories, studios, to help them learn about the world.
"Commitment to the young way of life means giving a lot of time, thought and effort," says Mrs. George Douglas, 709 5th Ave. S., president of the Delta County Girl Scout Council. "The rewards are intangible — and immeasurable, but assured."

The following adults work with the Delta County Girl Scouts:
Vice Presidents Mrs. Clyde McGonagle, 818 Wisconsin Ave., Gladstone, Mrs. Norman Lanou, 520 N. 19th St.; Secretary Mrs. Ray Gazlay, 1322 Michigan Ave., Gladstone; Treasurer Mrs. Ray Richards, 609 Ludington St.; Program Chairman, Mrs. John Fawcett, 710 Lake Shore Drive; Finance Chairman, Mrs. William Swenson, 802 Montana Ave., Gladstone; Training Chairman, Mrs. Rupert Prinski, Portage Pt.; Public Relations Chairman, Mrs. George Cavades, 528 1st Ave. S.; Member at Large Mrs. Clifford D'Arcy, 1501 Minneapolis Ave., Gladstone; North Delta Neighborhood Chairman, Mrs. Clarin Fredrickson, 1115 Michigan Ave., Gladstone; Central Delta Neighborhood Chairman, Mrs. Stephen Fradco, 943 Stephenson Ave.
Nominating Committee: Mrs. Jack Williams, Route 1; Mrs. Clifford Mineau, 1401 Delta Ave., Gladstone; and Mrs. Mel Gabrielson, 302 Minneapolis Ave., Gladstone; Mrs. Leo Lanou, 1407 Lake Shore Drive; Mrs. Roy Schmit, Route 1; Mrs. John Ryan, 1403 10th Ave. S.

The conference will begin at 9:30 a. m. and the closing will be at 4:30 p. m. A luncheon is included.

Princess, Husband Fly To Nassau

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowdon, were vacationing together in the Bahamas today after an interval of nearly six weeks apart.
Snowdon was on hand early at New York's Kennedy Airport Friday to greet his wife flying in from London. They then flew to Nassau, capital of the Bahamas crown colony.
The princess reached New York at 3:37 p. m. and held a brief private reunion with Snowdon, who until his marriage six years ago was London photographer Anthony Armstrong-Jones. A crowd of about 250 persons lined barricades, some applauding the princess. She responded with a nod, a smile and a wave.
Photographic assignments in Japan and the United States had kept Snowdon on the move since Feb. 1. The separation led to speculation of a rift in the royal marriage.
Snowdon said, "How do they start?" in denying the rumors last week. Newsmen were unable to question Margaret on the subject during their brief glimpses of her.

Mrs. Carley Is Cooks Postmaster

Ella M. Carley was installed as acting postmaster in Cooks on Feb. 26, by Postal Inspector J. A. Rolig. Mrs. Carley has been employed with the Post Office Department since Nov. 11, 1961, and for the past year and a half (1½) has been a substitute clerk.

Pat's Day Queen

BAY CITY (AP) — Connie Willet, 17, a brunette standing 5-foot-3, Friday was chosen queen of Bay City's St. Patrick's Day celebration March 19.
Miss Willet, an Essexville High School student whose Irish ancestry is traced to both her grandparents, was chosen from a field of 25 contestants by a committee consisting of Circuit Court Judge Dennis O'Keefe of Standish, Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell of Iosco County and Mrs. G.A. Sarmiento of Saginaw.
Bay City traditionally celebrates St. Pat's Day on a Sunday with a parade and festivities.
For open-face sandwiches, spread buttered toast with baked beans and top with grated cheddar cheese, making sure the cheese covers the edges of the bread slices. Broil slowly so the beans heat and the cheese melts. Serve with pickles and a salad.

Two Items Set On City Agenda

The City Commission will meet at 7:30 p. m. Monday at the City Hall with only two items to consider, according to the agenda released today by City Manager H. J. Henington.
The commission will hear a petition for paving Michigan Ave. from 2nd to 4th streets and receive a request from the State Highway Dept. for leasing office space in the City Hall on an annual basis instead of on the present monthly terms.

Say 'Frisco Mint Workers Sample; Audit Is Ordered

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Mint, a spin factory from which employees allegedly have been taking work home, will close today for an official audit and installation of new security devices.
The shutdown follows the indictment of four employees on charges of taking coins from the mint.
Eve Adams, director of the mint, said that thefts, if any, could be determined by comparing the weight of metal used in minting with the weight of coins and scraps after completion.
This audit is usually done every June. Miss Adams confirmed that the special tally was ordered by Washington.

Briefly Told

Job's Daughters will meet at the Masonic Temple at 7 p. m. Monday for a school of instruction. Leslie Erickson, grand inner guard of Marquette, will be the instructor.

Eskymos Advance To Regional Final

Paul Miller
... hits 30 points

GRAND RAPIDS — It takes a good team to win on a bad night and Coach Harold Johnson was hoping his Escanaba Eskymos got their "bad game" out of their systems in victory Friday night.

The Eskymos, with senior Paul Miller pouring in 30 points in a spectacular performance, rolled up their 18th victory of the season in eliminating Grand Rapids West Catholic from the state high school basketball tournament, 71-63.

Escanaba goes against former tormentor Grand Rapids

Ottawa Hills (12-7) in the finals of the regional tournament at Godwin Heights Fieldhouse at 7:30 p.m. Ottawa Hills eliminated Grand Rapids Central 68-37 in the opener Friday. Central had carried a 17-1 record into the game.

"This certainly was not one of our better ball games," said Johnson. "We were very tight in the first quarter and even though we began to loosen up in the second quarter we made a lot of floor mistakes."

"I think we should go into this one tonight in a much better way." Johnson said Ottawa Hills is a "big and tough" basketball team, but added that he felt this is Escanaba's "best chance" for a regional championship since joining the Class A ranks.

The Eskymos fell behind in the early going Friday, trailing 19-14 after the first quarter and by as much as six points in the second period before getting started. After Grand Rapids West Catholic moved to a 24-23 advantage, the Eskymos took over. Senior forward Bernie Larson picked up five straight points and Miller added two free throws to give Escanaba a 35-24 lead late in the first half.

Grand Rapids retaliated briefly with a long field goal basket, but Miller's jump shot gave the Eskymos a 37-36 edge at the buzzer. They were never again headed.

With the Falcons missing the basket in the third quarter, Dan Mylander, Miller, Bob Myrvall and Dave Nyquist combined for nine straight points to stretch Escanaba's lead to 46-36. The Eskymos increased the edge to 13 points on two occasions.

Grand Rapids, shooting from outside, rallied to 58-54 midway in the final period, but Mylander calmly clicked on a pair of free throws, Nyquist added a gift shot and Miller a pair of baskets to restore the safe advantage.

Miller, who ran his season's scoring total to 531 points with his 38-point blast, gunned in 16 of 28 attempts from the field and added six free throws. He had six points in the first quarter, 14 in the second, 10 in the third and eight in the final period. As a team, the Eskymos scored on 27 of 56 field goal attempts for 47 per cent. Grand Rapids, shooting mostly from outside, hit on 26 of 80, counting numerous tip-up attempts among their misses.

Myrvall, who followed Miller in the scoring total with 10, paced Escanaba's rebounders with 14. Nyquist had 10 and Jim Boyle, Larson and Mylander each six.

West Catholic was led by Pat Cwayna with 16 points, followed by Tom Jarosch with 14. Pat DeVries, the Falcons' 6 foot 9 inch center, managed only five points before fouling out of the game. Cwayna also fouled out.

From the free throw line, Escanaba converted 17 of 26. Grand Rapids cashed 11 of 19.

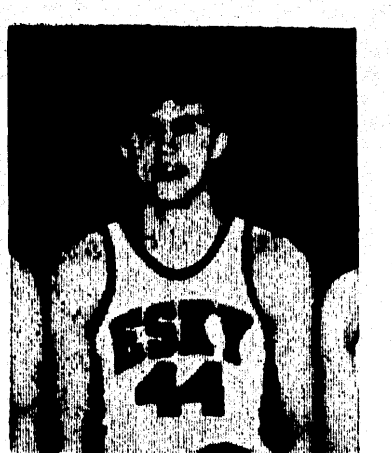

The victory Friday increased Escanaba's season record to 18-2, the best in the school's history. Ottawa Hills, tonight's opponent, was the school that eliminated the Eskymos from the same tournament two years ago.

Hermansville Outlasts Republic

In This Corner

with Ray Crandall

MARQUETTE — Two of the coaches whose teams made it to the Upper Peninsula regional here this season are raw rookies. Coaching for the first year at their schools are Elmer Peterson of Ironwood, a native of Crystal Falls and graduate of Northern, and Rudy Perhala of Ewen. Perhala's Bulldogs ran up an impressive 19-1 pre-regional record in which they outscored their opposition by 23 points per game. The Bulldogs topped the century mark in scoring three times, against Waterford, Marquette and Marquette.

The veteran among this year's journey coaches is Don Hill of Hermansville who is in his 16th year at that post. Hill's coaching record is an impressive 223 victories against 66 defeats. His Bulldogs won the State Class E crown in 1956, the last year for that small school division. Hill is a native of Norway, graduate of Northern and has spent his entire coaching career at Hermansville where he has turned out two of the Upper Peninsula's all-time scoring greats in Ervin Scholtz and Ron Foyelo.

Duane Phillips, Ishpeming mentor, has proved a worthy successor to C. C. Watson who guided Hemetite teams to 444 victories against 206 setbacks in a brilliant 37 year career. Phillips, in his fifth season at Ishpeming, has coached his teams to four straight district championships and a 68-31 record. They won the U. P. Class E pennant here last year.

The officiating in this regional affair has a definite Escanaba flavor. Among the 18 whistle tooters handling the tournament are Jerry Ovington, Ken Myrvin and Bob Anderson of Escanaba, in addition to Harold (Bob) Anderson of Ontonagon and Norman Slough of Sault Ste. Marie.

Coach Jim Daniels has carved out an imposing record in his 11 years at Wakefield. The Channing native, honored as U. P. basketball coach of the year two years ago by the Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Assn., has a 144-67 career mark entering today's Class C championship tilt against L'Anse. Wakefield teams have won six district championships in the last seven years and topped regional titles in 1954 and 1955. This year's Cardinal cage quint owns the best defensive record in the U. P., holding foes to an average of 54.7 points per game. Wakefield averaged 54.1.

Don Papp, coach of the defending state champion L'Anse team, lost five of his first six players through graduation this year, including U. P. scoring leader Gerry Gerard. The lone returnee is chunky Don Kent, a sharpshooting guard who has scored 264 points entering today's regional finale against Wakefield. Papp's Hemets have won 39 straight games and he has a four year career record of 55 victories against 26 losses.

Republic is a real stranger in Upper Peninsula tournament circles. The Hawks, who carried a 12 game victory string into their game against Hermansville, never before reached the regional. Tim Bullock, former Marquette prep and Northern Michigan University athlete, is in his second year at the Republic reins.

'Basket Brothers' Spark Pershing

By The Associated Press
If they scored touchdowns in basketball, Detroit Pershing's Ralph Simpson and Spencer Hayward would be "touch-down twins."

They certainly were "basket brothers" in leading Pershing to a 74-46 victory over Detroit Southwestern in a regional championship in the Michigan High School basketball tournament Friday.

Simpson and Hayward scored 26 points each for the Doughboys, who earlier knocked off Detroit Northwestern, the top-ranked Class A team in the final Associated Press poll.

Grand Rapids East Christian, the defending champion in Class B, defeated Holland Christian 66-48. L'Anse, second-ranked in Class C, downed Brooklyn 74-41 for a regional title, and Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart, No. 3 in Class C, whipped Merrill 105-57.

Ewen, top-rated in Class D, crushed Dollar Bay 77-45 while second-ranked Flint St. Matthew whipped Ontario St. Paul 77-45 for a title.

Hiramington Groves, second-ranked in Class A, plays Marquette tonight. Marquette, ranked third, will play Marquette Central.

South Haven, top-rated in Class B, plays Wakefield. The No. 3 team in B, Mount Carmel, plays against Marquette Central.

Miami Leading Swimming Meet

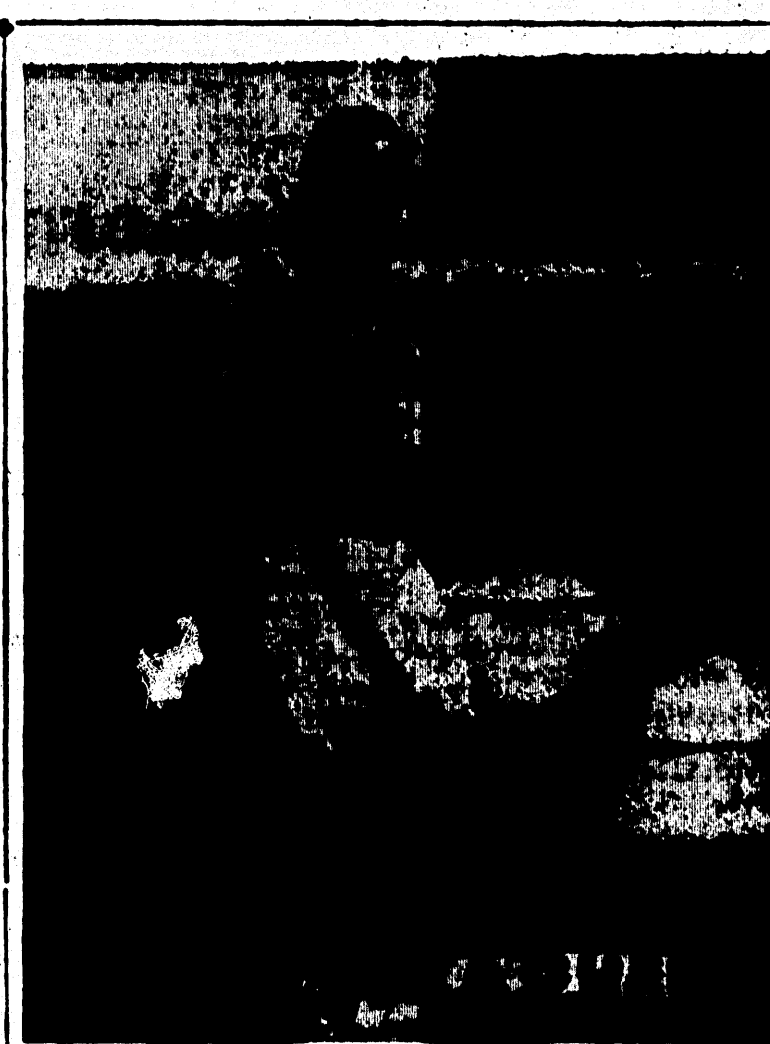

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Miami University swimmers carried three more first places Friday on their way towards victory in the 12th annual 1954-American swimming championships at Miami.

The Redskins have won six of 11 events for a total of 94 points. Defending champion Ohio University and Bowling Green were tied for second at 65 and Western Michigan and Kent State each had 20 points for a fourth-place tie.

Hematites Foil Newberry Stall

By RAY CRANDALL
(From Sports Editor)

MARQUETTE — In one of the most astounding Indian ambushes since Custer's last stand, Newberry's band of basketball Braves barely missed the upset of the year here Friday night before bowing to Ishpeming, 46-47, in overtime.

A capacity crowd of 5,200 fans watched in stunned disbelief as the underdog Indians from the Escanaba Holy Name district tournament wiped out an 11 point deficit in the second period and came within an eyelash of nipping the highly favored Hematites, both in regulation time and in the extra period.

Ishpeming's narrow victory will send Coach Duane Phillips' cagers into tonight's Upper Peninsula Class B championship contest against Menominee, a 76-59 victor over Ironwood in last night's other semifinal clash.

Ishpeming, carrying an 18-1 record into the fray, took command with a 16-7 first quarter lead. When the Hematites moved it to 27-16 midway in the second quarter, Coach Jim Depew ordered his well-disciplined cagers into a stall. They scored all the points in the remaining 4:16, getting a free throw from Dennis Robinson and a field goal with six seconds to go from Dennis Burgess, narrowing their deficit to 27-19 at the half.

Lanky Larry McTiver, a 6 foot 8 inch junior, put on a splendid show in the opening game, firing in 11 field goals and nine free throws for 31 points. The talented Maroon cager also earned 17 rebounds as the Great Northern Conference runners reached a regional championship game for the first time in the school's history.

Shoot 53 Per Cent
Menominee scored the first field goal and was never headed, although Ironwood came back from a 41-30 halftime deficit to make a respectable game of it in the second half. The Maroons killed any hopes for an Ironwood upset by shooting a terrific 52 per cent from the field, making 30 of 57 shots. Miller carried 11 of 27 from the court and 9 of 12 from the free throw line.

Ishpeming gained new life in the fourth quarter and went ahead, 46-44, on a steal and lay-up by sub George Laitinen with 1:00 to go. A free throw by McTiver with 30 seconds remaining tied it at 46-46. The Indians missed their chance to end it when Mike Perry's 12-foot jumper at the buzzer failed to go in.

Zhuklis Basket Wins
Ishpeming's Bill Zhuklis opened scoring in the overtime period with a driving layup with 2:30 remaining. Randy Plank knocked the score at 47-46 with a field goal with 40 seconds left. Twenty seconds later Zhuklis earned a 10 foot jump shot for Ishpeming's margin of victory. Newberry's Robinson was a shade off the target with the final shot of the game with only two seconds showing on the scoreboard clock.

Ishpeming won it from the free throw line by hitting an 11 of 17 shot. Newberry out-

Clutch Free Throws Seal 73-67 Victory

MARQUETTE — Coach Don Hill's Hermansville Redskins face a "big" assignment here tonight at 7 when they take on the No. 1 ranked team in the state of Michigan for the Class D regional basketball tournament crown.

Hermansville moved past a tough Republic team Friday, 73-67, with a deadly display of free throw shooting in the clutch.

Ewen, top-ranked in the final Associated Press poll in the regular season, crushed Dollar Bay, 77-45, in the other Friday semifinal game.

Coach Rudy Perhala's Bulldogs will enter the title tilt as the heavy favorite. Ewen swept through 14 straight foes to post a perfect Porcupine Mountain Conference record this season and suffered only one setback in the campaign. The Bulldogs bowed to Republic by one point, 65-64, late in the campaign.

To Face Conrad
The biggest obstacle Hermansville must hurdle tonight is the tallest player in the Upper Peninsula, 6 foot 9 inch Terry Conrad. The skyscraper senior turned in an impressive performance against Dollar Bay totaling in 30 points, grabbing 14 rebounds, blocking a half dozen Bluebird shots and putting the Ewen fast break attack into motion time and again with long lead passes.

Ewen was never challenged in yesterday's contest, pulling to an early 13-4 lead in the first period and increasing the margin in every quarter.

Conrad had three mates in double figures as Dennis Routhen hit 17, Bob Franti 14 and Ken Sein 12. The Bulldogs hit 46 percent of their field goals, 33 of 69, and 11 out of 20 from the foul line. The Bulldogs outscored Dollar Bay by a 37-41 margin.

Take Command
Hermansville fought off a stubborn Republic team that rallied from an early 12-2 deficit. The Redskins took command with a flurry of field goals midway in the final quarter and then finished off the Hawks with six straight free throws by Doug LaCourse and Randy Fochesato in the final 120 seconds.

Republic caught up to Hermansville at 26-26 with 3:25 to go in the second period and it was a dog fight the rest of the way.

It was still tied 55-55 with six minutes to go in the game before the Redskins broke away by outscoring Republic 10-2 in two and a half minutes. Len Welling and Fochesato flipped in the three key buckets in the surge.

Clutch Victory
With a 67-61 lead and 1:48 remaining, the Redskins clinched it as LaCourse scored in with four straight free throws and Fochesato added two in a row with six seconds to go. Fochesato finished with 23

NEW YORK (AP) — A second riot in Madison Square Garden in 19 months gave boxing another huge black eye after Panama's Ismael (Tiger) Laguna had made a sensational debut here by whipping Puerto Rican Frankie Narvaez Friday night. Narvaez, with a big following from New York's 800,000 Puerto Rican population, was the beaten fighter on both riotous nights.

The first riot, lasting about 25 minutes and the worst in the old arena's 40-year history, flared up after the 11-5 favored Narvaez lost on a close, split decision to Filipino Flash Elorde on Aug. 4, 1955. Not many people in the crowd of 6,618 were hurt that night.

But from 12 to 15 persons were injured and five were treated at St. Clare's Hospital for minor lacerations after the Laguna-Narvaez action-packed 12-rounder. The fight drew a roaring crowd of 11,800 and $50,823.

The rioting broke out shortly after the verdict was announced. All three officials had Laguna as the winner.
The smiling, gold-toothed Laguna was being congratulated and interviewed in the ring when whisky bottles and other missiles started whizzing down from the balcony.
The bottles landed in the ring and in the ring-side sections, smashing and splintering like shrapnel.
The Garden quickly emptied and the organist played the Star Spangled Banner. The worst was over in about 10 minutes.
Rioters tossed bottles, chairs, a fire extinguisher and axe, ripped away sections of seats and iron and brass railings, smashed telephone booths and windows and toppled over the Garden organ five feet to the floor.

Control Troubles Tigers' McLain

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)

Granted, it's a little early in the baseball season. But if Denny McLain is going to have another 20-game season, the American League might have to start using bigger home plates.

"That plate looked about one inch by one inch," the Detroit Tigers pitcher said after giving up two home runs to Kansas City in an exhibition game Friday.

The Tigers managed an 8-7 victory over the Athletics on a bases loaded single by Willie Horton in the eighth.
"I was just trying to throw hard," McLain said. "I wanted to extend myself and loosen up a little. I was real pleased with my slider. It moved real well, and I just missed with it on the corner seven or eight times."

Mickey Lolich, who hadn't thrown to a batter in a week, threw three hitless innings and Horton, Mickey Stanley and Jim Northrup homered for Detroit.

Abel Optioned

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings, still six points away from the final National Hockey League playoff berth, sent left winger Gerry Abel, son of Coach Sid Abel, back to Minneapolis Friday. The Wings say either Ray Cullen or Paul Henderson, both on the injured list, would replace Abel against the Bruins in Boston Sunday.

Abel, who had 10 goals and 10 assists in 40 games, was optioned to the Bruins in Boston Sunday.

Riot After Fight Erupts In Garden

NEW YORK (AP) — A second riot in Madison Square Garden in 19 months gave boxing another huge black eye after Panama's Ismael (Tiger) Laguna had made a sensational debut here by whipping Puerto Rican Frankie Narvaez Friday night. Narvaez, with a big following from New York's 800,000 Puerto Rican population, was the beaten fighter on both riotous nights.

The first riot, lasting about 25 minutes and the worst in the old arena's 40-year history, flared up after the 11-5 favored Narvaez lost on a close, split decision to Filipino Flash Elorde on Aug. 4, 1955. Not many people in the crowd of 6,618 were hurt that night.

But from 12 to 15 persons were injured and five were treated at St. Clare's Hospital for minor lacerations after the Laguna-Narvaez action-packed 12-rounder. The fight drew a roaring crowd of 11,800 and $50,823.

The rioting broke out shortly after the verdict was announced. All three officials had Laguna as the winner.
The smiling, gold-toothed Laguna was being congratulated and interviewed in the ring when whisky bottles and other missiles started whizzing down from the balcony.
The bottles landed in the ring and in the ring-side sections, smashing and splintering like shrapnel.
The Garden quickly emptied and the organist played the Star Spangled Banner. The worst was over in about 10 minutes.
Rioters tossed bottles, chairs, a fire extinguisher and axe, ripped away sections of seats and iron and brass railings, smashed telephone booths and windows and toppled over the Garden organ five feet to the floor.

Vikings Select Grant

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Harry (Bud) Grant, 39-year-old head coach of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the Canadian Football League the past 10 years, was to be named officially this morning as the new head coach of the Minnesota Vikings.

The Vikings called a mid-morning (11 a.m., EST) news conference to announce Grant's appointment.

Although official confirmation of the appointment was held up until the news conference, there was little doubt Friday night that Minnesota General Manager Jim Finks and Grant had reached agreement. Grant was registered at a Twin Cities motel Friday night, but would not receive calls.

Grant, former university of Minnesota three-sport star who played professional basketball and football, had recently signed a new five-year contract with Winnipeg. But the Blue Bombers did not stand in Grant's way for the Vikings post.

Strike Threat To NBA Playoff

NEW YORK (AP) — The Boston Celtics and the Philadelphia 76ers are figure to be favored to battle for the championship in the National Basketball Association playoffs this year. If there are any playoffs.

Right now there appears to be a good deal of doubt as to whether the post-season games that determine the league champion will be held.

The players have threatened to strike unless the owners meet their demands for increased pension benefits. Friday, NBA President Walter Kennedy said that unless the players agree by Tuesday to compete in the playoffs, he will call them off.

The players are demanding a pension of $600 dollars a month for a 10-year man 30 years after retirement, instead of the $200 monthly now being paid. The owners have countered with a $400-a-month offer, but Kennedy says that figure is negotiable.

National Safe Boating Week this year will be observed from July 2 to 8.

Talking Books

LANSING (AP) — "Talking Books" for the blind who cannot read braille, now are available from two regional libraries for the blind and handicapped, reports the State Education Department. The books are on records and eligible borrowers also may take out phonographs. The State Library for the Blind at Lansing and Wayne County Library for the Blind have the books available.

Wilderness Tag For Seney Set For May Study

A public hearing will be held in the University Center of Northern Michigan University, Marquette, on May 10, at 9 a.m. on whether the Huron Islands and the Seney Study Areas should be included in the National Wilderness Preservation System.

A similar hearing was held Jan. 31 in Houghton on whether to include most of Isle Royale in the wilderness system.

The wilderness study area comprises 147 acres within the Huron Islands, which lie in Lake Superior off the northern shore of Marquette County. The islands were set aside as a national refuge for cormorants and gulls by President Theodore Roosevelt early in the 20th Century.

The wilderness study area comprises 19,150 acres within the Seney National Wildlife Refuge in Schoolcraft County.

A brochure containing a map of the preliminary boundaries and additional information of the study area may be obtained from the Refuge Manager, Seney National Wildlife Refuge, Seney, Mich., 49883, or the Regional Director, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, 1006 W. Lake St., Minneapolis, Minn., 55408.

Legislator Barred From Other State Jobs During Term

LANSING (AP) — A member of the Legislature may not seek election or obtain appointment to state office during the term for which he is elected even if he resigns as a legislator, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has ruled.

Kelley's opinion was in answer to a question by Sen. Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, and chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Richardson asked if the State Constitution prohibited a legislator from being elected to another office during the middle of his term if he resigned as a legislator after his election to the other office.

Kelley cited a section of the Constitution which prohibits legislators from receiving "any civil appointment within this state from the governor, except notaries public, from the Legislature, or from any other state authority during the term for which he is elected."

However, Kelley said, the prohibition applies only to state office and would not prevent members of the Legislature from seeking election or receiving appointment to either house of the U.S. Congress.

Seed Standards Bauerle Honored

LANSING (AP) — The State Agriculture Department will hold a hearing March 15 at Lansing on a proposal to modify standards for seed certification. An amendment to the code is proposed to allow some lowering of seed standards in poor growing years when a crop variety might be threatened.

Estes Predicts 10 Million Car Year By 1970

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The head of General Motors Chevrolet Motor Division says the auto industry expects sales in 1970 will reach 10 million cars a year, with 13 million projected by 1975.

R. M. Estes, head of a 12-section meeting with area dealers, also anticipates a considerable sales increase for March, April, May and June.

Sales for January and February of this year were off 20 per cent from the same period last year, he said.

Blamed for the slump are the Vietnam war, which he says has taken thousands of potential customers, tight money and recent bad weather in many sections of the country.

"We don't know for certain what the industry's going to do," said Estes. "I doubt if anyone knows."

For the past few years, Estes said, auto profits have been rising at a higher rate than the over-all economy.

"Now," he said, "we seem to be back on the normal trend line."

Big Snows Help Ground Water Levels Improve

LANSING (AP) — The winter of the big snows wasn't all bad, claims the State Conservation Department.

Test wells of the U.S. Geological Survey are showing improved ground water levels due to a slow snow melt. February readings were above average throughout the state.

Ground water levels have been declining in recent years, causing water supply problems.

Warm days and cold nights are needed to permit an even greater recharge of the ground water supply, the department said.

A prolonged sudden warm spell, however, would result in a fast thaw with water runoff and flooding.

Medicaid Topic Of Welfare Meet

LANSING (AP) — Revision of Michigan's Medicaid program will be a prime topic when more than 800 delegates from the Michigan Welfare League meet with 70 legislators Tuesday at Lansing. Other topics at the league's legislative forum will be old age assistance budgets, court reorganization, role of the State Housing Development Authority.

Hospital Aid May Take Fund From Retirees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government may have to divert to the medicare program Social Security funds earmarked for retirement benefits, says Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee.

The Arkansas Democrat said here that climbing hospital costs threaten to plunge medicare into the red.

He mentioned as possibility for keeping the program financially healthy a hike in the medicare tax or tapping of the retirement fund.

Mills' comments came after officials of the American Hospital Association testified at the committee's hearings on President Johnson's proposed Social Security increase proposals.

The AHA officials estimated that hospital expenses will average $67.50 a day for each patient by next September — an increase of 18.6 per cent in a year. They predicted further increases during the next three to five years.

Mills said the projected rate of increase is about twice that estimated by Congress in setting the medicare tax of 1 1/2 per cent on workers and employers, limited to the first $6,000 a person earns. The tax is scheduled eventually to reach 2-10 per cent.

Mills said the portion of Social Security taxes that goes for retirement benefits is producing a slight surplus.

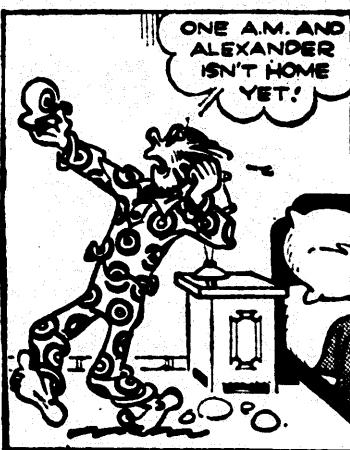

Johnson's Social Security plans count on using this surplus plus more payroll tax revenues to finance higher benefits.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Little Man

He stands alone, looking almost too small for the burden of those books. You watch him, and you wonder what he is thinking. But you know that if you were to ask him, he'd only look up with a little shrug and say — "Oh, nothing."

"Nothing" is so often a child's answer to the deeper questions. Perhaps a child knows instinctively that he can't hope to put into clear words all the puzzle, the confusion, the joy, sorrow, and wonder that comes with growing up. And "nothing" can become — to you — the most frustrating word in the world.

What can you do about it? You can love him, and you can help him in every way you know. You can be sure that he is given a chance to go to church with you, and to Church School. Here he will find some of the best answers of all to that long list of questions that will become longer, still, as time goes by.
